DEDICATION

To him who has been our friend and counselor, our example and inspiration;

To him who has embodied the principles of poise, culture and Christian living;

To him who has "lured to brighter worlds and lead the way;"

To Dr. Wm. P. Bentley, we, the class of 1933, lovingly dedicate this volume of the CEER.

"Christian education is the training for complete living." Since the 1933 CEER is a record of a year of Christian living, we have chosen as its theme that verse which is our only record of the training of the Master: "And Jesus increased in wisdom, and in stature, and in favor with God and man."

Not a record of past achievement, but a statement of determined courage, is that which the class of 1933 wishes to leave with the student body of California Christian College. Forty-five additional seniors now stand at the brink of a new day, or perhaps at the close of the world's last chapter. Realizing that only through individual reconstruction can they hope to add their contribution to society, they step forward with lives dedicated to the truth. Realizing that universal moral standards depend on the effective interaction of many individuals, they reach forth for the cause of honesty. Realizing that education alone does not build a social order, they strike out toward the task of applying their educational talents to practical situations.

Forty-five additional triumphant standard-bearers for Christ! Nearly half a hundred individuals going forth into as many walks of life, each filling a personal place in the world, but all bound together by the unity of purpose which finds its origin in the class of 1933.

"It is only a small college. Its buildings are not so well equipped as those of more wealthy institutions. Its curriculum is not so exhaustive as that of the larger universities. But to compensate for this the whole campus is motivated by the spirit of Him who taught on the mountain-side campus, without the backing of even a single university degree and with a curriculum drawn from the activities of men."

California Christian College, they leave you. They are not grieved, for that which they hold most dear is not destroyed in parting. And although they say farewell now, it shall not be forever, for voice with voice they shall sound forth the call to Christian living.

The Junior class elected its officers on September 16, 1933, and chose David Dingilian as its leader. Through the cooperation of an able executive committee the class was able to sponsor many worthwhile activities during the school year. They aided the Freshman class in the promotion of the annual Frosh party, and held the Junior party on October 22.

During the month of November the class took charge of a chapel hour and presented Dr. Bruce Baxter of the University of Southern California as the speaker.

Activity for the women of the class during the winter months consisted of basketball games played between members of the Junior and Freshman classes.

The outstanding social event of the year was the annual Junior-Senior party which was held at the home of Irvin Chapman, in Long Beach. The party was an all day affair consisting of a beach party, followed by a dinner and an evening of social entertainment.

Many activities have been undertaken by the Sophomore class of this year. With the ideal of serving the college as a group the class has accomplished much in the field of constructive activity.

At the beginning of the first semester the class provided the traditional period of so-called enlightenment for the Freshmen. The kangaroo court, with Frank Cron as judge, provided many interesting and amusing antics.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore field day was held on October 7. After much rivalry, intensified by the usual class spirit, the Freshmen were declared the winners.

The outstanding social event of the year for the class was the annual party held at the home of Charles Wickett in Fullerton. The affair was a climax to the Fullerton-Panther football game.

Placing the ideals of the college above the class interests has been a big factor in determining the success of the class during the past year.

September, 1932, brought to California Christian College a new class of Freshmen, complete with "beanies," Frosh bibles, and enthusiasm. The laws and ancient traditions set forth by the Sophomores were carried out with great diligence. The annual Freshman-Sophomore field day resulted in a victory for the lower classmen and ended the period of rivalry between the two classes.

The class enjoyed a sneak party on September 26. Much satisfaction was gained from the fact that the whereabouts of the affair was kept a secret from the Sophomores.

One of the outstanding events of the year was the bonfire which was built by the class on the eve of the Homecoming Day football game. Big Pines furnished the background for a snow frolic held at the close of the Christmas holidays.

Striving to uphold the ideals of the college, the class has gained much. Represented in many activities it has contributed something tangible and constructive to California Christian.

Kappa Upsilon Kappa

Special students on the campus of California Christian College who are not affiliated with any of the four classes are organized into a group in order that they may better serve in promoting the feeling of Christian fellowship within the school. Kappa Upsilon Kappa, the name chosen by the organization, is that of a like organization which has existed on the campus for several years.

The smaller enrollment of special students during the past two semesters has made necessary the limitation of the activities of the group. In spite of the fact that there are but a few members, Kappa Upsilon Kappa has contributed several worthwhile factors to college life. They have made possible the presentation of several books to the library. These volumes have been catalogued and are on the shelves for student use. At Thanksgiving time the organization provided a needy family with a typical Thanksgiving dinner.

Kappa Upsilon Kappa exists with the hope that every special student at California Christian College will become an active and enthusiastic member of the group. Social activities are conducted by this organization in the same manner as those undertaken by the other classes.

The primary aim of Kappa Upsilon Kappa is that of serving the special student and in so doing promoting the feeling of Christian Fellowship on the campus of California Christian College.

The Alumni Association

When undergraduate days are done and graduates and former students take up their labors in various walks of life outside the campus, one organization carries on for them: the Alumni Association officially represents them in their relationship to Alma Mater.

Two hundred twenty-four graduates from eleven classes are members. Non-graduates are admitted to associate membership when the class with which they entered college has been graduated, and each member has spent at last two semesters in college residence. A large number of former students have availed themselves of this privilege.

The Association promotes fellowship, aids in continuing friendships and seeks in every way to advance the interests of Cal-Christian. It charters Panther Clubs, which are groups of alumni formed wherever desired by graduates and former students. Existing now are The Seaboard Panther Club (New York area); The Mid-West Panther Club (Chicago area); The Los Angeles Filipino Panther Club. The Los Angeles Cal-Christian Luncheon Club, meeting on the first Friday of every month in Clifton's Cafeteria, 618 South Olive Street, meets the need for the home area.

A project is the securing of $5,000 endowment for the annual Scholarship Award, providing $250 in cash to a senior. Until the endowment is secured, so that interest will annually provide the award, no further awards will be made.

Dispensing with the usual entrance into the Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest, held at Pomona, the women still showed a keen interest which was mainly due to Professor Tovey's fine directing and Miss Helen Clair Dudley's fine assistance.

The one social occasion of the year was an informal tea given by the officers under the direction of Lola Dayton.

The Men's Glee Club, under the leadership of Professor Tovey, has completed a successful year's program with the aim of advertising California Christian College as its primary purpose. Programs have been presented in many of the southern California churches. The club participated also in the Founder's Day and Commencement programs.

The club was directed at most of its appearances by John Parker. Offerings were contributed by the churches, which aided in the purchasing of new music and advertising materials.

During the second semester the club was much smaller in size, due to numerous outside activities which claimed the attention of many of the members. With but ten members the club continued its work, and finished the season with a worthwhile record.

The quartette adopted the name "Cal-Christian Colleens" and chose for their theme song "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." The quartette traveled with Edgar Lloyd Smith into northern California, where they presented programs in various churches for the purpose of advertising the college. They have also sung in many of the southern California schools and churches. The personnel of the Colleens is: first soprano, Margery Roelofs; second soprano, Loraine Ingle; first alto, Lola Dayton; second alto, Margaret Lang.

ALISON'S HOUSE

On December 9, 1932, "Alison's House," the Pulitzer Prize Play for 1931-32, by Susan Glaspell, was presented in Grayson Memorial Auditorium by members of Mrs. MacKay's advanced dramatics and direction class.

The story takes place on the last day of the year 1899. The old homestead which for so many years sheltered the famous American poet, Alison Stanhope, is being broken up. Eben, one of Alison's nephews, sums up the general feeling in his lines: "It was all so darn real today, coming down here for the last time. And the century going—her century. When I got the first glimpse of the place through the trees I had a feeling of the whole country being piled on top of her, that she wouldn't get out from under."

On this last day in the old homestead all the Stanhopes gather, to be near, if possible, to the soul of Alison Stanhope who has been dead for eighteen years. One by one they seem to succumb to the good influence which Alison has left. Hates and misunderstandings are forgiven and forgotten. And at the end of the play everyone seems to be sweeter and kinder because of the influence of this famous poet. A love story and much humor are scattered throughout the play, making it altogether a very charming story.

THE LOVE EXPERT

Many talented students were discovered in the play "The Love Expert" which was presented in Grayson Memorial Auditorium as the second major production of the year. This performance was given for the purpose of discovering new talent in the field of dramatics.

The play was directed by Charles Wickett, president of the Props and Q's Dramatic Society.

The plot of the play is built around the love expert, played by Fern Seay . Her work as a newspaper writer who gave advice to the lovelorn led her into the simple home of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, played by Phil Gerrard and Alice Shepherd. The Jacksons' beautiful daughter, Mary, falls in love with the fiance of the love expert, thus forming the eternal triangle. These two characters were portrayed by Betty Binkley and Charles Wickett.

George Kyle as Chester, Norma Stocking as his mother, Lendel Elder as Tony, and Clarence Mason as O'Reilly, completed the cast.

Forensics

Forensic activities again mark a banner year for California Christian College. The program for the year was forwarded by Lois Cross who acted in the capacity of manager.

The first event of the season was the Inter-fraternity Oratorical Contest which was held in November. The subject discussed was "The Cultural Dividends of a College Education." Irvin Chapman, representing the Kappa Delta Nu fraternity, was awarded first place.

The men's debating team, managed by Harold Bodley, entered several intercollegiate debates, meeting among them the University of Southern California, and the College of the Pacific. They also represented the college in the annual tournament of the Southern Conference. The team was composed of Burt Anderson and Charles Kay, who debated the affirmative, and Irvin Chapman and Andy Allensworth who upheld the negative.

The third annual Schreck Good Citizenship Oratorical Contest was held in March. Arthur Casaday won first place, and Betty Binkley placed second.

The most successful venture of the year was the representation made at Stockton in the Pi Kappa Delta national league tournament. Competing against thirty colleges of the West, Lois Cross placed first in the women's division and Frank Cron won fifth place in the men's division.

The annual Prohibition Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and locally forwarded by Dr. Hertzog's Social Problems class, stimulated a new interest in the field of oratory, which has been the goal of this year's activities.

In Declamation California Christian College was represented by David Dingilian in the men's division.

During the past two semesters Lois Cross has served as president to the Women's Division of the Southern Conference; and Frank Cron served as secretary to the Men's Division.

The Ceer

It is not easy to follow in the footsteps of a great individual, nor is it a simple task to duplicate a great accomplishment such as the All American Ceer of 1932. The staff of the 1933 Ceer presents this book with the hope that it may approach the greatness of its predecessor.

A capable staff headed by Evelyn Hunton as Editor-in-Chief, worked many long, hard hours in order to produce the finished piece of workmanship. Fourteen other students, acting in the capacity of staff members, gave valuable aid in producing the book which you now hold in your hands.

The 1933 Ceer has as its purpose the creating of a permanent record of a year's activity which may be kept and cherished by every member of the student body.

Lesser Prophet

It has become traditional for the sophomore class each year to publish a freshman handbook, or Frosh Bible. The 1932-33 Frosh Bible successfully fulfilled its mission of helping to orient the freshmen into our Cal-Christian campus life. Having, as it did, the school songs and yells, pictures of the campus notables, words of greeting from campus leaders, a paragraph of introduction for each of the campus organizations and publications, a set of library rules, a school calendar, a list of school athletic records and activities, and the traditions and instructions for the freshmen, a handy book was provided for the novitiate.

Harmon Wilkinson, the business manager, worked hard to make the handbook exist on a paying basis, which in these "depression" times is a big task. The editor, Ellsworth Lewis, spent many hours in gathering statistics and words of welcome, and in organizing the material into an attractive little ninety-two page document. The sophomore class is to be congratulated for its choice of two who could so ably publish this handbook. These two are to be highly praised for their vacation-time activity and the excellent work they accomplished.

It is to be hoped that in the future the student body will not only get behind the enterprise financially, but will lend its support and cooperation, making possible the expansion of the Lesser Prophet into a book covering more items and becoming more attractive to students other than freshmen.

The Panther

The Panther is the official weekly publication of the Associated Students of California Christian College. It has been the aim of the paper to present items of interest about life on the campus, dealing with them in a manner acceptable to newspapers of a collegiate rank.

During the first semester the staff was headed by Juanita Lowry as editor-in-chief. Her assistant editor was Gale Reynolds. During this semester the Panther was issued in printed form.

The editorship was taken over during the spring semester by Bill Linn. Because of a reduced budget, the paper was issued in mimeographed form.

Football Summary

A lack of experienced players, a small turnout but plenty of enthusiasm was the situation facing Coach Ralph Welch at the beginning of the 1932 football season. It was the coach's problem to develop a football machine out of a nucleus of seven returning lettermen and a group of enthusiastic newcomers. It was out of these apparently discouraging conditions that was molded one of the finest teams ever to represent Cal-Christian. Too much cannot be said in praise of Coach Welch for the fine work he did in developing a team that was never licked and never stopped fighting until the finish gun had sounded.

LA VERNE VS. C.C.C.

Opening the 1932 Panther varsity football schedule, our loyal sons were crushed before the mighty La Verne Leopards by a 25 to 6 score. In spite of the seeming large difference in the scores, the game was hotly contested

In all, the Cal-Christian team showed a driving offense and a determined defense that is unequalled in the history of the college.

SANTA MONICA JR. COLLEGE VS. C.C.C.

Traveling to Santa Monica for their second game of the season, the Panthers lost a ragged but hard fought game to the scrappy Corsairs by a score of 18 to 6. The ability to take advantage of the breaks made by the Cal-Christian team enabled the Corsairs to score their three touchdowns and win the game. Credit must be given to the Santa Monica eleven for playing clean, hard, heads-up football.

REDLANDS UNIVERSITY VS. C.C.C.

Fighting hard, but being completely outclassed, the Panthers were crushed by the Redlands Bulldogs on a slippery gridiron, by a 33 to 0 score. A freak storm lasted just long enough to drive the spectators to their cars, to keep the boys cool on the gridiron, and to make the ball slippery and hard to handle.

Considering the strength of the Bulldogs, the Panthers made a remarkable stand and played a clean, hard game. However, they were no match for the Redlands machine and went down to defeat. This game proved that no matter what odds showed against the Panthers, they never gave up until the final gun sounded.

FULLERTON JR. COLLEGE VS. C.C.C.

With a brand new formation and a double shift into position, the Panthers attempted to bewilder the Fullerton Yellow-Jackets in a game played on the Fullerton gridiron. The Cal-Christian team were themselves somewhat surprised when, in the second quarter, a Panther punt was blocked that paved the way to a touchdown for the Hornets. The conversion was good, and the Panthers were sent home with a 7 to 0 defeat to remind them of an otherwise perfect afternoon.

TAFT JR. COLLEGE VS. C.C.C.

Home-coming day was marked by a furious battle between the Taft Junior College eleven and the fighting Panthers on the U.C.L.A. gridiron. Time and again the stands were brought to their feet when sparkling plays were executed by both teams. Again it was the inability of the Panther's claws to fasten themselves into the pigskin that caused them to be defeated.

The most brilliant point of the game was Caldwell's 83 yard return of a kickoff for the only Panther score. This came at the opening of the second half and inspired an already fighting machine to even greater endeavors.

In spite of their brilliant play, the Panthers were finally defeated by a score of 12 to 6.

VENTURA JR. COLLEGE VS. C.C.C.

Not believing in taking the day off, the Panthers traveled to Santa Paula where they met Ventura Junior College in an Armistice day game. Evidently the Buccaneers were more determined to have an "on" day than the southern team, since they held them to 7 points while scoring 12 for themselves.

Fighting against tough breaks all season and struggling to overcome a serious handicap in lack of reserves, this loyal band of Panthers gave their utmost and built a team that will go down in history as the most representative of the true Cal-Christian spirit.

ENGLE—With two years experience at the wing position, was sensational in getting down under punts, and had a defensive motto, "they shall not pass."

NEWMAN—Played a scrappy ,heads-up game and was a deadly tackler on defense.

TWIST—Playing his last year for Cal-Christion, a versatile wingman, excelling in defensive and offensive play.

CHAPMAN—A senior, played his fourth and last year of football in a manner that would do credit to any man's team. He was especially strong on defense.

JARRETT—Commonly called "Tarzan"; was a tower of strength both on offense and defense.

REILLY—Playing as a regular for the first time. Pat showed up excellently in all departments of the game.

WILLIAMS—A newcomer, was deadly on defense, but suffered a broken leg and was confined to the bench during the last few games of the season.

HARROD—"Never say die" was Merrill's motto, and he certainly lived up to it.

FREEMAN—Held down the other guard position and was especially noted for his fight.

BUTLER—A hard charger who saw much service toward the close of the season.

ANDERSON—Burt was a colorful and consistent player. His tackling was sensational.

SWAN—Anderson's understudy; performed nobly at the pivot position when given a chance.

SIMONS—Captain and outstanding player all season; finished his football career in a blaze of glory. His ability will long be remembered at C.C.C. as a fullback supreme.

SMITH—A halfback; had a remarkable season and was always a threat to his opponents. He also played quarter.

CALDWELL—Was the most brilliant open-field runner ever to grace Braden Field.

GRODINSKY—Quarterback; showed rare judgment in calling signals and returning punts.

MALCOR—Cal-Christian's perpetual football manager; proved even more efficient this year than last ,and took care of the "boys" in excellent fashion.

CAPTAIN GRIFFITH COACH WELCH

Basketball

Turning out the most successful team in years, Coach Welch must be given credit for having a knowledge of basketball and how to coach it. This year's varsity lost to only one team in Southern California and won decisive victories over LaVerne, Occidental, California 145 pound team, and the Hollywood Y.M.C.A.

Davis-Elkins, eastern collegiate champions in 1931-32, Fresno State, and Pomona were the only teams registering wins over this year's fast traveling, high scoring varsity.

Starting the season in a blaze of glory, the Panthers won their first four games by decisive victories. Woodbury College, Santa Maria Junior College, and Southwestern were unfortunate enough to have to face the Panthers in this torrid streak.

Special mention must be made of the alumni game. Providing less competition than they had been expected to show, the alumni were easily routed by a score of 51 to 27. Mayo, Forbes, and Griffith were the high scorers for the varsity while Thompson and Tower led the losers.

Tackling the 1931-32 eastern collegiate champions, Davis-Elkins, during the Christmas holidays proved to be a chunk too large to swallow, consequently the visitors took both games, but not, however, without having to fight for every point. Sensational shots by their guards won both games for the easterners and served as their only means of scoring effectively on the Panther's defense.

Returning from the holidays with new determination in their hearts, the Panthers met and defeated the 145 pound team from the University of California. Mayo was the star of the game, scoring 25 points.

The next game found the Panthers meeting the Leopards of LaVerne in the U.C.L.A. gym. After a fierce battle that was anything but a pink tea, the Panthers claimed a well earned victory by a margin of 12 points. No one player stood out for either team, and the feature of the game was the marvelous cooperation and team work of both teams.

Traveling to Santa Barbara, the Panthers staged a comeback after a poor first half to win by a score of 43 to 26. Griffith and Forbes led the scoring attack for the Panthers, while Greeson looked best for the Roadrunners.

The Panthers had no trouble in continuing their winning streak by downing the U.S.C. Dental College five 48 to 27.

GRIFFITH

ENGLE FORBES TWIST

In order to continue its winning streak the Cal-Christian team was forced to repulse the Tigers from Occidental. Failing to be hampered by poor lights and a small floor, the Panthers proved too strong and won decisively. Again Griffith seemed unable to miss the basket and collected 24 points.

The week-end of January 27 and 28 found the Cal-Christian team guests of Fresno State in the northern city. Evidently a combination of factors, chiefly Fresno's strength, caused the double defeat of the Panther five. A midget forward, Herman by name, spelled defeat for the C.C.C. quintet in the first game and Secrist and Rambo left no doubt in anyone's mind that they were out to beat the panthers in the second encounter.

Still lacking fight and pep, the Panthers fell before the Sagehens of Pomona by a 34 to 21 score. It is significant that this game marked the first athletic relations between the two schools.

Barely nosing out the Santa Barbara State five, the Panthers again entered the win column by a three point margin. Mayo led the strong brigade with 17 points.

After getting the feel of a win into their bones again, the Panthers traveled to LaVerne where they handed their hosts a severe drubbing. The whole team clicked and played the best game of the season.

The strong Hollywood Y.M.C.A. team of casaba tossers provided plenty of competition for the Panthers but were not quite strong enough to halt C.C.C.'s winning streak. Consequently the Panthers won by an eight point margin.

In the final game of the season the Panthers showed the Occidental Tigers that the Panther was the master by a 37 to 25 defeat for Occidental.

B Squad Summary

Rather than have a Freshman squad this year, a B team was organized under the tutelage of Wally Newberry. "Wally's boys" were made up of Freshmen and several members of the varsity squad who did not see regular service on the first team. Games were scheduled with nearby military schools, high schools, and other institutions.

Wally developed a scrappy group of players that won eleven out of fourteen games. Reilly, Anthony, McAdam, and Young were consistent players throughout the season and should help form a nucleus for the varsity next year.

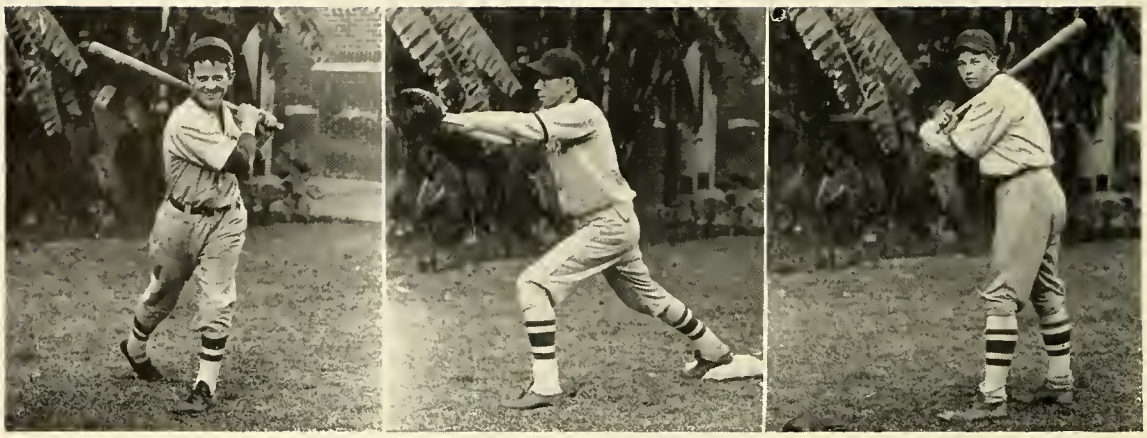
Meeting the strong Pasadena J. C. nine in the first game of the season, the Panthers were held to a large goose-egg while the Bulldogs could garner only three runs. The game was featured by the brilliant pitching and fielding of both teams and provided many thrills all through.

In the most hotly contested game of the season the Panthers were tied by Urban Military Academy at the end of nine innings and were still deadlocked 1 to 1 when the game was called at the end of the eleventh. The game was marked by a pitching duel of no small proportion, and saw plenty of pep and enthusiasm in all other departments of the game. The keen spirit shown by the Panthers indicates that they will go far this season in winning ball games.

Behind the strong right arm of Sol Simons, the Panthers came through brilliantly to completely rout the strong Melrose All-Stars by a 14 to 3 score. The game saw four Melrose pitchers driven to the showers by the clouting Panther bats. Every Panther seemed in rare form and errors were few and far between.

In another early season game the Panthers took the measure of the strong Glendale J. C. nine by a 3 to 0 count. Captain Grodinsky had the Dynamiters eating out of his hand throughout, and each man on the team was right there when assistance was needed.

Santa Monica Junior College proved that a team is only as good as its substitutes by defeating the Panthers 13 to 10. It was a lack of first string men that spelled defeat for the Panther nine plus the hard hitting of the beach boys. Solly was noticeably off form as was the rest of the team. Costly errors and poor support spoiled any chances the Panthers had of winning.



McADAM GRIFFITH ELDER

The Panthers attempted to take the sting out of the Yellow Jackets, but had the Bees turn and sting them 10 to 7. The game was marked by many costly errors and poor support of the pitchers. Ray Linn was relieved by Simons after pitching four innings of good ball.

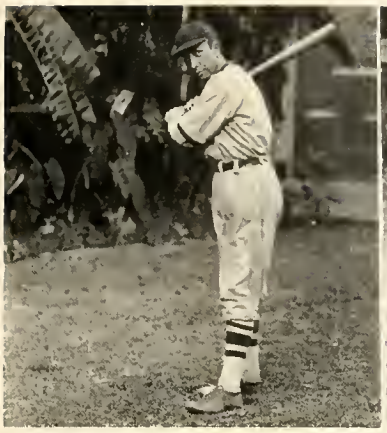
Founder's Day found the Panthers finding themselves and trouncing Woodbury Business College 3 to 2. A pitching duel between Simons of the Panthers and Schmidt of the Business College was the main feature of the game. Elder's hit in the fourth inning drove in Ferraris and Murphy who had got on base by a hit and an error respectively.

Avenging a previous defeat, the Panthers travelled to Santa Monica where they turned the tables on the Junior Collegians and won 6 to 4. Solly pitched air-tight ball and received good support from his teammates.

Still unable to convince Pasadena J. C. of the importance of a victory, the Panthers dropped another game to the Bulldogs by a score of 11 to 8. A strong wind and hard hitting by the Junior Collegians were contributing factors to C.C.C.'s defeat.

Starring Micky McAdam, the Panthers returned from Santa Barbara with a well earned 3 to 2 victory. Solly allowed the Roadrunners only three hits, and the Panthers collected a few more than this number. However, one hit is deserving of special mention. With the bases loaded and two away, McAdam clouted the highest fly ever seen by many enthusiasts, and by the time the ball came down, all three runners had scampered home and Micky found himself on second.

Unable to get going, the Panthers were defeated by the American University by a 6 to 0 score.



MILLER

SIMONS

Faced with a none-too-large turnout, Coach Welch has had to build this year's team around a few returning lettermen who have responded wonderfully to the task before them. It is the duty of these men to create the pep that builds team morale and a sportsmanlike attitude. The qualities have certainly been in evidence this year, and the team has shown remarkable spirit, win or lose.

With big Sol Simons and Captain Grodinsky the "head" men of the pitching staff, Coach Welch started scratching around to find a couple of able fellows to relieve them of some of their duties. Lendel Elder and Ray Linn responded and have given the big boys many much-needed rests from their pitching duties.

Bob Rennison, catcher, Tom Murphy, first, and Ken Engle, second, even though they had their positions cinched, worked with determination that made one believe that competition was greatest in these three positions.

Harry Griffith and Micky McAdam, experienced men from last year, came through in a big way during the last half of the season and helped the Panthers win several ball games.

Ray Sanchez, third, Angelo Ferraris, short, Lendel Elder, field, Eddie Simmons, second, and Ray Linn, filled out the roster and added much to the strength of the varsity. These men were all newcomers and showed a fine display of the true C.C.C. spirit. They will be valuable men for next season with this year's experience behind them.

CAPTAIN PROWELL COACH WELCH

Track

With the best prospects for a successful track team ever to face him, Coach Welch developed the best all-around team ever to represent C.C.C. on the cinderpath. With such men as Linn in the high jump, Prowell in the distance events, Haskell in the shorter races, Jarrett and Simons in the javelin and weights, Ferarris in the pole vault, and numerous other first place winners, Coach had a group of men that was good for a number of points against any team.

The season was outstanding in record-breaking feats. Haskell in the quarter-mile, Prowell in the two-mile, Linn in the high jump, and Jarrett in the javelin—each broke existing records in his event.

HARVARD MILITARY ACADEMY

Marked by Haskell's setting a new school record in the 440-yard dash, the C.C.C.-Harvard Military Academy track meet, which took place on the Academy field, ended in a victory for the Panthers. Haskell outdid himself to win handily in 53.2 seconds. The old mark was 55 seconds flat. Other marks were only fair, and places went as had been anticipated. From the performances of Coach Welch's athletes in this meet, it was evident that many close meets would result during the rest of the season.

VENTURA JUNIOR COLLEGE

Featured by the sweeping of the high hurdles and javelin, by placing first and second in the hundred-yard dash, low hurdles, and pole vault, the tracksters from Ventura repulsed the invasion of the Panthers from C. C. C. by a 77 to 53 score. In spite of Prowell's double win in the distance events, Linn's jump of six feet, and first places by Simons, Jarrett, and Engle in other events, the Buccaneers were able to amass enough points to easily take the meet.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

In a very close meet marked by only average performances, Loyola University took the measure of the Panthers in the first intercollegiate meet ever held on Braden Field. The final score was 66½ for Loyola and 64½ for C. C. C.

Prowell, Moody, and Williams in the distance events, Williams in the dashes and broadjump, Haskell in the quarter, Ferraris in the pole vault, and Linn in the high jump, took a majority of the points for C. C. C.

This was the second victory for Loyola over the Panthers, the other coming in a triangular meet with Pasadena Junior College, Loyola, and C. C. C.

INTERCLASS MEET

Keen competition and class rivalry marked the annual Interclass Meet held on Braden Field March 23. The Frosh garnered a total of 44 points to win a smashing victory over the other classes. The Sophomores and Juniors tied with 26 points each, and the Seniors trailed with 18 points.

Prowell's time of 4.55 for the mile established a new meet record. Tarzan Jarrett stole individual honors by scoring 13 points. Haskell and Engle came next with 11 points each.

HANDBALL TOURNAMENT

In view of the success enjoyed by the handball tournament on the minor sports program last year, the competition was carried on again this year. The men students responded enthusiastically to the call and thirty-two competitors played in the first round. Competition was very keen and many players were eliminated in the early rounds who would have gone far in ordinary competition. As the Ceer goes to press the finals have not yet been played. Pat Reilly, last years champion and director of the tournament this year, will meet Simons to determine the championship.

Extensive plans are already under way for the tournament next year. There is a possibility that handball will be made one of the minor sports and that suitable awards will be presented to the winners.

MIXED DOUBLES TENNIS TOURNAMENT

As part of an elaborate minor sports program, the mixed doubles tennis tournament was introduced into the activities of the campus with a high degree of success. The competition was hailed with much enthusiasm by the tennis devotees of the school. Twelve couples competed in the opening round, and the competition was very keen as is shown by the close scores of all the matches.

The finals of the tournament found the combination of Ellsworth Lewis and Grace Stipp meeting Kenneth Engle and Peggy Lang for the championship. The former team won the title by taking two out of three matches.

Bill Coffey and Leonard Babcock, veteran yell leader from last year, were at every football game to lead the loyal rooters in their large part in supporting the team.

During the basketball season they were always on hand to lead the yells and songs. The support given to the yell leaders and to the team on these occasions is highly commendable and is a true example of the spirit which the two yell leaders sought to keep at high pitch.

Basketball

Since the organization of the W.A.A., basketball has been the major activity for women. This year the sport enjoyed a successful season. Over thirty girls turned out to participate in the games. There were inter-class games scheduled. The sophomore class, who won every game, were the victors. Class managers were appointed by Frances Woodbury, head of basketball. They were Catherine Webb, freshman; Clara Bisbey, sophomore; Alice Shepherd, junior; and Ruth Pelley, senior.

Hiking

This has been an active year in the field of hiking. The main event took the form of a hike and supper in the Pasadena canyon, in which all women students were invited to participate. Delicious steaks were the delight of the group after two hours of hiking. Weekly hikes in Griffith Park were looked forward to by W.A.A. members, and afforded much pleasure.

Rhythmics

The rhythmic group has enjoyed its most popular year. The program progressing through all phases of the dance has had a definite appeal to all college women. A dance demonstration was sponsored by the W.A.A. around the mid-year, devoted to modern dances. Several programs have been given since, sponsoring the rhythmic group.

The final demonstration included original dances and percussion studies. Dancing honors were given to fifteen women.

Tennis

Tennis is not only one of the most popular sports at California Christian College, but it is one of the most important. It is important for three reasons: first, because it teaches one to play fairly; second, because it demands alertness; and third, because it necessitates quick thinking. On November third, the annual tennis breakfast of the W.A.A. was held at Griffith Park, and was followed by an exciting exhibition game which was won by Miss Peggy Lang, tennis champion for the semester. With Mary Gibbs as head, the second semester tennis play-offs were held on May 13th as a feature of play-day.

Volleyball

Volleyball has become one of the most interesting and outstanding competitive activities on our campus. However, due to the fact that the gymnasium was used for other practicing during the season, there was little time for any lengthy tournament. A few games were planned by Grace Ivy during the semester. During the second semester, noon games were scheduled under the leadership of Alice Shepherd. All of the games played were filled with thrills and excitement.

Hockey this year has proved to be one of the most popular activities of the Women's Athletic Association. During the progress of the six weeks season class teams were formed. These teams were headed by Elanore Davis, who was assisted by Clara Bisbey of the upper-class division and Ruth Smith of the lower-classmen when the Frosh and Sophomores showed their colors by winning the championship.

W. A. A. Awards

RUTH PELLEY

At the end of each year of W. A. A. activities, awards are given to those girls whose continued interest and sportsmanship merit recognition. Of the three types of awards given, the highest is the "C" sweater. Those under consideration for this award are judged according to seven stated requirements: proficiency in three major sports, possession of a secondary award, good health, good posture and appearance, good sportsmanship, good scholarship, and possession of the Cal-Christian Spirit. Three girls were honored with sweaters this year. They are Lola Dayton, Ruth Pelley, and Alice Shepherd.

Secondary awards, which heretofore have been in the form of pins, have this year been replaced by lavaliers. These were presented to Clara Bisbey, Frances Woodbury, Anita Tefft, Elanore Davis, Edna Allen, Juanita Lowry, and Helen Maddox. Another new feature of the W. A. A. program is the addition of a primary award to those Freshman girls participating in the sports of the season.

Honorary awards, presented to those who show continued interest in the organization, went this year to three women. Mrs. Roy G. Bose received a sweater; a secondary award was given to Mildred Records; and membership was extended to Evelyn Gove.

CHARLES C. CHAPMAN

Board of Trustees

Another year has gone into history since I wrote greetings for that prize-winning Ceer of 1932. The nation has nobly stood the stress and strain of an unprecedented economic condition. With equal fortitude and determination has California Christian College passed through the year. This period of financial and business distress has demonstrated that C.C.C. has as devoted a staff as ever honored an educational institution. This splendid faculty is headed by President Cheverton, who has at all times and in every emergency proved a capable, loyal, and princely leader. He has cheerfully led in every step on the highway of personal sacrifice for the college.

The Trustees deeply appreciate this rare devotion to our institution by the entire faculty and management. This spirit of loyalty and devotion has been equally displayed by the entire student body. I could pay no higher tribute to the splendid group of young men and women enrolled at C.C.C. than to say that they have wholeheartedly co-operated with the faculty and management in bringing the college through one of its most successful years in the face of the most distressing economic experience known during the life of the nation.

The history thus made adds glory and renown to dear old C.C.C. May this spirit, so beautifully typifying that of the Master, prevail during the coming year.

Sincerely yours,

CHARLES C. CHAPMAN,
President, Board of Trustees.

Jesus was more than a preacher, more than a teacher, more than the founder of the church. He was a MAN. Son of God and our Savior? Yes. But he was also every inch a man—strong enough in body to complete his work without shrinking; able to meet intelligently and calmly the greatest minds of his day; with a personality that challenged the attention of rulers, found immediate sympathy in the hearts of the common people, and inspired unlimited confidence in the children who played at his feet. He loved life. He understood life. He was life—the way, the truth, and the life. He spent his time doing good, intelligently, sympathetically, and tirelessly. He loved his fellowmen, he knew how to help them and he had the strength and determination to stand by his task even unto the point of death.

We have no apology to make, therefore, when we point to Jesus' way of life as the inspiration and the final goal of the entire program of California Christian College. Not preachers primarily, not teachers, nor physical education experts; not statesmen, lawyers, doctors, or leaders in the business world, but MEN—courageous, intelligent, sympathetic men and women who see life, all of life, whether material, social, or religious as perfected only when founded upon, and governed by the principles of His Way. If in the process of developing fully-rounded lives we can also help our students to learn a vocation, well and good. But that is secondary. Men do not learn to live by discovering how to make a living: men who have really learned to live may be trusted in time to make a living.

Department of Religion

Mankind is moving God-ward. It is so written. Some move blindly, some reluctantly, some rebelliously . California Christian College helps men to move God-ward joyously—joyously because normally. We believe that goodness is human normality.

God's people, young and old, feel at home on our campus. We breathe naturally the breath of His face.

Perfected personality is the final product of a unified process of education. Thus character is central—related to intelligence, religion and human progress.

"The proper study of mankind is man"—man as the divine image.

Give us youth to be fashioned after the Perfect Pattern. The impress of that pattern is on all our science, letters, sport. California Christian College sits in youth and modesty among the colleges of our land. But at least we know it is His School.

Department of Science and Education

Approximately one-fourth of our entire student body give their vocational choice as that of public school teaching. This is the largest single professional group in the College. Our objective in teaching at California Christian College is not to train teachers of history, geography, etc., but rather teachers of children.

The real task of teaching is the building of wholesome, complete personalities, which will be adequately adjusted to the life about them. The history, geography, etc., are but tools to be used in the doing of this challenging task. Thus teaching is not the transmitting of mouldy facts from musty books, but building lives from interesting and vital experiences, both personal and racial.

California Christian College stresses personality develpoment for all its students. Especially is this necessary for those students who plan to become teachers, as personality is caught as well as taught. Also, good teaching is the "sharing of experiences." If the teacher has not experienced the activities that build personality, she or he cannot share them with the children. We cannot share that which we ourselves do not possess. Therefore, it is the center of the work of the Education Department to aid in the building of wholesome, complete personalities among all students, especially those who plan to become public school teachers.

History and Economics

At the present time we are in the midst of a great social, political, and economic revolution—the consequences of which are impossible to foretell. However, a knowledge of the fundamental principles of economics and of the historical record of this great nation should help one considerably in arriving at an intelligent understanding of these complicated problems. History helps one to interpret the present in terms of the past. The depression has caused nearly every one to be a student of economic problems. A knowledge of the working of the great economic laws should enable the careful student to distinguish between sound policies and the so-called "cure-all" variety.

Departments of Language and Speech

The department of speech education offers a very wide range of cultural values. The speech and drama courses, under the direction of Bertha Jackson MacKay, are constructed to develop the potentialities that lie within the student rather than to follow a definite rhetorical program. Particular stress is laid upon the importance or the consciousness of production. These courses provide an impetus for future endeavors, whether they be in the field of literature, dramatics, or oratory.

Supplementing the art of forceful expression, whatever its area, is the language department, which provides a limited course of study in Greek and Latin, or in the modern languages, French and Spanish.

Combined, the two departments do much in extending the realm of knowledge, and till an essential part in the four-fold plan of Christian living.

California Christian College places special emphasis on the teaching of music as a life principle. The courses offered in music plan for more than musical education; they prepare for an active life, especially as it is related to the church and her activities.

Prepared teachers meet earnest students with subjects such as Voice, Piano, Pipe-organ, Violin, the History of Church Music, Harmony, Composition, Orchestration, Ear-training, and Music appreciation.

During the school year ,the Music Department has produced some excellent quartets, among them being the "Cardinal Quartet" of men who appear every day over radio station KHJ, with Dr. Cheverton in his morning program, "A Help for the Day." The "Colleen Quartette" of ladies represented the college in selected public gatherings for the college, and at times assisted Dr. Cheverton in his radio hour. The Women's Sextette and the Women's Trio found themselves very much appreciated as they responded to calls for specialized music. Glee Clubs of men and women are at all times prepared to sing at college functions in addition to their church programs in various parts of the city.

The year 1932-33 in California Christian College may best be characterized as the year of re-adjustments. Notwithstanding that we anticipated the emergence of prosperity around the corner long before registration day, it has persisted in remaining concealed even to the present. Its delay caused several revisions in the budget. This condition, however, has revealed the wonderful sacrificial spirit of our faculty and officers who have given much additional time that our program might not suffer while at the same time they have received less than half the normal salary.

Nevertheless, we have given to the extreme to help young men and women to remain in college rather than join the crowd of unemployed. We do not despair but look forward hopefully with confidence in our fine student body and faith in the economic recovery of our nation.

JEANNE E. SUMNER

Under the directorship of Miss Jeanne Sumner the library has reached a high degree of efficiency during the past year. The cooperation existing between the librarians and students using the library facilities has made it an ideal place in which to study.

New books are constantly being added to the shelves. More than fifteen hundred have been checked and placed on the reference list during the past year, and approximately five hundred more are in the process of being catalogued. Several classes have contributed books, and the "Friends of the Library" campaign has added many volumes.

The supervising staff was extended at the beginning of the second semester when Henry Searle was appointed Assistant Librarian and Myrtle Glover was placed in charge of the catalogue and reference work.

A class in library technique was conducted once each week by Miss Sumner for the purpose of acquainting the student librarians with their work.

The Student Executive Committee, aided by the loyal cooperation of the student body, has been able to serve the college in many ways during the past two semesters.

In addition to the routine activities of handling Associated Students' finances, the Panther, the College Council, and directing other student activities and student chapel services, the executive has this year made two important advances. It has inaugurated a new central system for the control of finances of all organizations under control of the Associated Students. This new centralized system is a marked advance both as to efficiency and as regards the simplicity with which it may be operated. The committee has also formulated plans for the publication of a new type of the freshman handbook. "The Lesser Prophet" will be presented to each student at the beginning of the school year instead of only to members of the Freshman class as has been done in the past.

The social organizations have seen a definitely constructive year completed, and it has been so because the spirit existing between the groups and individual members of the groups has been one of genuine fellowship and cooperation. Something of a unique situation exists on our campus or such a statement would have no foundation. The welfare of the whole school has been considered before the interest of particular competing groups, and for this reason the work of the Interfraternal Board of Control in presiding over the social organization program has been entirely satisfactory.

The scholarship trophy awarded by the Board was presented to Phi Alpha Chi fraternity for the first semester's work, with Omega Sigma Delta making a strong bid for the honor. Through the Interfraternal Board was sponsored this year an "Interfraternal Night" in the college dining room. Kappa Delta Nu took the initiative in suggesting the plan of having the three fraternities cooperate in presenting he program, and the occasion was indicative of real Cal-Christian spirit existing in fact as well as "in constitution" among our social groups.

President's Council

The President's Council, first organized in 1928, derives its membership from the presidents of all student organizations and clubs, with the President of the Associated Students as Chairman. These influential persons in student life are banded together to aid in the solving of major problems on the campus. This Council is also a valuable means of organizing activities and promoting co-operation among the various organizations. This is in fact the main duty of the Council, and in this work it can be very effective by helping to create and maintain the Panther Spirit.

Throughout the year there has been no necessity for regular meetings, but the Council has met at various times at the call of the President, and at such times it has rendered valuable service by disseminating important information among the respective organizations. This plan represents the policy of the Associated Students to build constructively upon the foundation stones laid in previous years.

The College Council, the student disciplinary body, is composed of three faculty members, six regular members, and six alternates.

The paramount interest of the Council during the past year has been concerned with the formulating and administering of certain rules pertaining to student self-government. These rules, designed as helpful suggestions, have been conducive to the building up of a better morale on the campus.

The library situation has been improved because of the individual appeal made directly to the students. The Council, working in conjunction with Miss Sumner and her staff of librarians, has created and maintained a period of quiet which makes the library a more desirable place in which to study.

During the year the Council has endeavored to eliminate personal animosities by conducting all conferences as issues and not as individual problems.

The homogeneity of the student body during the entire year is an adequate indication of the spirit that the Council is endeavoring to build for a greater Cal-Christian student body morale.

Associated Men Students

Traditional with the custom of past years, the men students have been organized into a functioning body with the purpose of fostering the true Cal-Christian spirit among both the dormitory and off-campus men. It has been the desire of this body to foster such events as will unite the men into a harmonious unit of our campus life.

Those affairs sponsored by the A.M.S. that carried out the desire of the organization for fellowship and social contact were a stag and the annual Men's Return. It was also significant that the men aided the women by assisting in the financing of a Christmas party for the orphan kiddies of this neighborhood.

In response to the Women's Formal the Men's Return was unusually successful and climaxed the social year for the entire student body.

Every woman student attending California Christian College is automatically a member of the Associated Women Students. The purpose of the organization is to promote a rich Christ-like friendship among the women, to endeavor to uphold the ideals and traditions of the college.

A slumber party inaugurated the social events of the year. It was given in honor of the new women on the campus. The traditional Hi-Jinks was held on the campus at U.C.L.A. The night club motif was featured at this event. During Christmas vacation the women entertained twenty-five small boys from the Neighborhood Settlement House. The men gave financial assistance, showing their interest in this opportunity to share wtih others the worthwhile things gained at California Christian College. The crowning social event of the year, "A Trip to Toyland", was the annual formal dinner given in honor of the men students.

The Rally Committee

This is the first year that Cal-Christian has had a functioning Rally Committee. It is a comparatively new organization, but has accomplished much.

The function of the committee is to arrange for pep rallies, and generally supervise the activities which have to do with increased spirit and enthusiasm at all of our games.

During the fall semester the committee held several rallies during the chapel hour . The work of this group has helped our enthusiastic cheer leaders to better carry on the work that is theirs.

With the start which this committee has made, it is the earnest hope that the work may be carried on from year to year. The committee which has served faithfully thus far has but started a task which must be perpetuated on California Christian College campus if we are to take our place in the field of athletics beside other colleges of our size.

The committee also recommends the special award for athletic prowess in the form of life passes to those graduating seniors who have made letters for three years in any one sport.

The Council has seen fit to recommend gold basketballs to the 1932-33 quintet as a symbol of appreciation for their splendid record on the hard court during the past season. The student body as a whole approves this gesture in behalf of the best basketball team ever to represent the Cardinal and Gray.

Social Committee

This year has been an outstanding one for the Social Committee. While the affairs they sponsored were few, they were acclaimed successes. This was largely due to the individual work of each member, as well as to the cooperation of the committee as a whole.

The fall semester began with the traditional President's Reception, which was a pleasant reunion of faculty and students. Later, the school entertained the alumni at a Home-Coming Day program.

Next came a treasure hunt held in Griffith Park. This was the scene of the annual steak-bake. Games, songs, and stunts helped to make it the finest barbecue in the school's history.

In the spring the new students were entertained at an "All-College" guest night which proved to be both enjoyable and congenial.

So the school year has drawn to a close, and finishing it the college entered into two of the most outstanding events—,first, Open House, May 12 and 13, when the college dormitories, for once, truly shine; then, the college picnic which is the termination of a Cal-Christian year.

The Council called a meeting of the women students, and these organizations were presented. Each president had the opportunity of introducing to the new women the group of her particular interest. Student Store

The Student Store, during its three year existence at Cal-Christian, has established itself as a permanent and worthwhile fixture. It has grown from a small unit selling only stationer's supplies to a business concern which is recognized as one of the best among the colleges and universities of Southern California. The profits of the store have shown an appreciable increase during the past three years. This is due to the handling of textbooks by the management. The store is a student enterprise in that forty cents out of every dollar of profit goes into the treasury of the Associated Students.

The managership during the past year has been under the direction of three individuals. Edwin Carter opened the store in September and directed it until November when the management was assumed by Bill Linn. Norman Brown acted as manager throughout the second semester and finished the year with a highly commendable record.

House Committees

WESLEY FORD LOIS CROSS

The House Committees, functioning in both the men's and women's dormitories, have appeared on the Cal-Christian campus this year for the first time. Serving as a means of creating a better spirit of co-operation among the students, and also of relieving the Deans of various responsibilities, these committees have proved themselves to be definite assets to dormitory life.

The group acting in the women's dormitory is composed of members of the executive board and the assistant deans. They deal with the minor problems which arise from time to time regarding certain duties and privileges. The committee working in the men's dormitory is composd of members of the executive and is chosen by the residents. The group deals with problems pertaining to dormitory life and also has charge of room inspection, which is held twice each month.

Student government exists to a large degree on the campus, and the work of the House Committees makes this existence much larger in its scope and in its effect.

An outstanding event, participated in by the dormitory, was the annual Open House which was held on May 12 and 13. Regular meetings of the residents were also held. At these gatherings business apropos to college dormitory life was discussed. Twice each month the social committee, of which Ellsworth Lewis was chairman, presented the guest night program in the college dining room.

Women's Dormitory Association

LOIS CROSS

As a group of students gathered together in a unifying purpose, the women of the dormitory of California Christian College now review the highlights of the year.

Early in the fall semester the girls entertained their mothers and friends with the traditional Chrysanthemum Tea. Before the Christmas holidays the Women's Dormitory Association collaborated with the men in giving a Yuletide party. As the school year neared its close the last social function was Open House, at which the women of Harris Hall were the hostesses of groups of prospective students.

The social life, as well as the enduring friendships formed, help to make the dormitory of California Christian College a true home to all its residents.

Off-Campus Women's Association

President - - - - Mary Catherine Carter
Vice-President and Social Chairman - Ethel Snyder
Secretary and Treasurer - - Helen Thompson

The Off-Campus Women's Association was organized four years ago in order to promote a greater feeling of friendship and cooperation among the off-campus women students. It is the desire of the organization to create in its members an eager interest in all college activities and to bring them into a closer relationship, that they may better promote the ideals of their alma mater.

An outstanding affair of this association is the annual Mother's and Daughter's Tea. This year it was given in the home of Ethel Snyder. The special feature of the tea was a pledge of fidelity to their mothers by the daughters, and a gracious response by the mothers.

Through this organization several rooms in the dormitory are maintained for the use of the off-campus women. These rooms have been decorated by groups of the women and provide a place for the girls to rest, study, and meet in friendly gatherings.

Tri-C Literary Society exists on the campus of California Christian College as a means of supplying a necessary outlet for literary expression. It was organized in 1927, and has developed during the past seven years, enjoying one of its most successful periods of existence during 1932-33.

Meetings of interest and value were held twice each month during the school year. Wesley Ford was president of the group during the first semester, and Ronald Menmuir acted in that capacity during the second term.

An outstanding event sponsored by the organization was the annual Tri-C Banquet.

The Props and Q's Dramatic Society exists on the campus of California Christian College for the purpose of banding together those students who are interested in dramatics and who have talent for this type of work.

During the past year the organization sponsored the producing of the three act play, "The Love Expert", which was directed by Charles Wickett. The club also produced various other plays of a shorter nature, which offered the members a chance to gain dramatic experience.

Meetings were held at stated times during the school year, at which interesting discussions were fostered. These forums concerned topics apropos to dramatic work, and were of interest and help to all the members.

During the year 1932-33 the regular meetings of the Ministerial Students Association were of a very practical nature. Numerous prominent ministers of southern California led conferences on some of the real material problems of church administration.

The high spiritual tone of the Association was set in a retreat held in the Big Tujunga Canyon during September.

Several of the members are working in student pastorates, some are working as apprentices under some of our leading ministers, in larger churches, while others have been kept busy in gospel team work.

This, the most successful year of the Association for many years, was fittingly climaxed by a series of discussions on "What Christ Means To Me."

The Y.M.C.A., during the past two semesters, has sponsored two notable chapel services presenting as the speakers Kirby Page and Charles Foster. Both of these men gave messages which were of great value and inspiration to the students. The organization also sponsored numerous discussion groups which have been led by able speakers.

During the basketball season the Y.M.C.A. organized a basketball team which played many of the church teams and athletic groups of southern California.

The association sent three representatives to the annual conference at Asilomar during the Christmas vacation. The men representing California Christian College were: Kenneth Engle, Phil Gerrard, and Harold Bodley.

An outstanding women's organization on the campus during the past two semesters has been the Young Women's Christian Association. Monthly supper meetings were held in the homes of the various members at which guest speakers addressed the club. Following these meetings discussion groups were fostered which always proved to be of aid to those attending.

The organization engaged in many worthwhile activities during the year. A tea and a doughnut sale were features of the first semester's program; while a Valentine tea and a sale of refreshments at the Founders Day program were outstanding during the second term. As a climax to the year's activities a Silver tea was held on May 7.

Secretary-Treasurer - - - - Tom Murphy

CHARLES GRODINSKY

The Varsity Club is composed of those athletes who are letter winners in either football, basketball, track, or baseball. Any varsity letterman is eligible to membership. The members of the club take part in the extra-curricular activities on the campus which have to do with the physical development of the four-fold life program.

The ideal and purpose of the club is to serve the college in any manner possible. Members continually participate in the other activities as well as those sponsored by the club. Throughout the year the group sponsors many activities which are of value to its members and also of service to the college.

The Varsity Club works through the medium of athletics to be of service to the members of the group, but has as its final purpose a far higher motive, that of serving California Christian College.

Treasurer - - - - - - Charles Weismandel

The Conference Club exists at California Christian College for the purpose of carrying the conference spirit over into the realm of campus life. The aim of this organization is to carry into everyday living the true values of life so clearly brought forth at conference.

Several events have been sponsored by the group during the past two semesters, most notable of which was the retreat and vesper service held at Griffith Park. Here the conference spirit was exemplified through the singing of many songs, the fellowship gained through being in God's out-of-doors, and through an inspiring message by Rev. Harry Hill of Burbank.

The annual Conference Reunion was held on the campus May 20, with the Conference Club acting in the capacity of host.
